Item description required for all items:

This Guided Missile Loader supports the RIM-162 Evolved Seasparrow Missile system as a part of the NATO Seasparrow. The ESSM is a medium range all-weather, all-environment missile designed to provide ship self defense against air and surface targets. ESSM operates within a wide range of existing and future combat systems. For compatibility with the existing Seasparrow infrastructure, ESSM is required to operate with Continuous Wave (CW) Home All the Way (HAW) systems. The RIM-7 Sea Sparrow is a US ship-borne short-range anti-aircraft and anti-missile weapon system, primarily intended for defense against anti-ship missiles. The system was developed in the early 1960s as a lightweight point defense weapon that could be retrofitted to existing ships. It has undergone significant development and remains an important part of a layered air defense system, providing a short/medium range component especially useful against sea-skimming missiles
