- 1) DFARS. 252.225-7029 was inserted in the RFP by mistake and is hereby deleted from solicitation. DFARS 252.225-7009 “Restriction on Acquisition of Certain Articles Containing Specialty Metals” (OCT 2014) is incorporated in solicitation.
- 2) Offerors which have existing US Government-approved Single Process Initiatives (SPIs) (see DFARS 211.273 and the definition of SPI in DFARS 252.211-7005 “Substitutions for Military or Federal Specifications and Standards”) may propose use of such SPIs for performance of this contract. Such DFARS clause (DFARS 252.211-7005 “Substitutions for Military or Federal Specifications and Standards”) is hereby added to the RFP. Important Note-- Even though the Navy will evaluate use of any proposed US Government-approved SPI, i.e., when reviewing the offeror’s performance approach under the RFP’s Factor 1 “Performance Approach,” an offeror proposing to use such an SPI does so at its own risk. That is, the offeror runs the risk that the Navy may conclude such proposed use will not meet overall contract requirements, with such conclusion leading to rejection of the proposal as non-responsive and thus ineligible for award (unless the offeror has simultaneously submitted an alternate proposal not proposing such SPI use, i.e., a proposal the Navy can accept).
- 3) In accordance with FAR 12.302 “Tailoring of provisions and clauses for the acquisition of commercial items,” offerors may propose modifications to this RFP’s clause FAR 52.212-4 “Contract Terms and Conditions – Commercial Items,” for example, warranty provisions consistent with the offeror’s commercial practices. Important Note-- Even though the Navy will evaluate any such FAR 52.212-4 modifications proposed, i.e., when reviewing the offeror’s performance approach under the RFP’s Factor 1 “Performance Approach,” an offeror proposing such modifications does so at its own risk. That is, the offeror runs the risk that the Navy may conclude such modification will yield performance not meeting overall contract requirements, with such conclusion leading to rejection of the proposal as non-responsive and thus ineligible for award (unless the offeror has simultaneously submitted an alternate proposal not proposing such modifications, i.e., a proposal the Navy can accept).
- 4) Offerors should note that SubFactor C Small Business Participation is hereby revised. The existing immediately language below is deleted.

“Sub Factor C Small Business Participation

Notwithstanding any Comprehensive Small Business Subcontracting Plan which has been approved by the Government pursuant to DFARS 219.7, the offeror shall submit with its proposal a PBL Subcontracting Plan specific to the proposed PBL contract. Such PBL Subcontracting Plan shall cover the entire term of the proposed PBL contract, and shall include at a minimum, but not be limited to, the eleven (11) elements listed in FAR clause 52.219-9, Small Business Subcontracting Plan, para. (d). The rating shall be made IAW the offeror’s compliance with the aforementioned eleven (11) elements.”

In place of the above now-deleted language, the following text is hereby inserted--

“Sub Factor C Small Business Participation

Under this solicitation, submission of a Comprehensive Small Business Subcontracting Plan which has been approved by the US Government pursuant to DFARS 219.7 is permitted. An offeror submitting such a plan shall submit clear evidence that such plan has appropriate and current US Government approval.

The Sub Factor C evaluation of any small business subcontracting plan under this solicitation shall include, pursuant to DFARS 215.304 "Evaluation factors and significant subfactors," review of the extent of participation, in the performance of the contract to be awarded here, of small businesses, to include service-disabled veteran-owned small business concerns, HUBZone small business concerns, small disadvantaged business concerns, and women-owned small business concerns. Such review of the extent of such participation will utilize, as sub-elements within Sub Factor C, evaluation factors (1), (2), and (6) within PGI 215.304. These are (1) the extent to which such firms are specifically identified in proposals; (2) the extent of commitment to use such firms (for example, enforceable commitments are to be weighted more heavily than non-enforceable ones); and (6) the extent of participation of such firms in terms of the value of the total acquisition.

Offerors are, accordingly, to present in their proposals information relevant to such review, including if/how the work on the contract to be awarded is work that offers subcontracting possibilities."

NOTE: Offerors are advised that their obligation to submit a subcontracting plan, e.g., under FAR 52.219-9 "Small Business Subcontracting Plan," is a stand-alone obligation. Reference (in the new Sub Factor C language above) to the permissibility of complying by submitting an appropriate/current Comprehensive Small Business Subcontracting Plan should not be read to imply that submission of a subcontracting plan is in any way discretionary. Also note: DFARS 252.219-7004 Small Business Subcontracting (Test Program) (Oct 2014) is incorporated in the solicitation.
