If there is a difference between a unit price and the extended total, the unit price will be held to be the intended bid and the total recomputed accordingly. If an Offeror provides a total but fails to enter a unit price, the total divided by the specified quantity will be held to be the intended unit price. The total sum of CLIN Items 0001, 0002 shall be transposed onto the SF1442 for evaluation purposes.

b. The Government may reject an offer as nonresponsive if it is materially unbalanced as to prices for the basic requirement and the quantities. An offer is unbalanced when it is based on prices significantly less than cost for some work and prices which are significantly overstated for other work.
