1. References: Page 143 of 169, 2) Proposal Format. First paragraph states at the end “...number the pages consecutively for each factor.”

Question: Should the contractor add page numbers to the attachment JL files? For example, should we add page numbers to MS Excel Attachment JL.2 Direct Labor Bid and Billing Rate Submission and so on consecutively?

Response:

For Volume 1, within the tabs for the factors, only the pages that are applied to the overall page limit should contain consecutive page numbers. If the JL attachment is a form that is applied to the overall page number limit, a page number should be added to the form.

For Volume 2, any consecutive page numbering format may be used. Page numbers may be added to JL forms for organization and clarity although it is not required.
