FPR INSTRUCTIONS

Offerors may now submit written proposal revisions for their responsibility determination, nonprice/technical proposal, and/or price proposal, as applicable. FPRs must be received in our office by 2:00 PM EDT on Friday, 14 August 2015.

As previously stated in NAVFAC letter dated 31 July 2015, the Government will require submission of fully conformed FPRs, with all changes annotated. The original submission requirements will remain unchanged, reference 5252.215-9300 CONTENT OF PROPOSALS, for details of proposal submittal requirements. FPRs shall be sent to the original proposal submission location, reference L.2 PROPOSAL DELIVERY, for proposal markings and delivery addresses.

You are permitted to increase the conformed non-price/technical proposal by 20 pages in order to fully address the issues set forth in the discussion questions. Index each change in the front of your revised proposals and ensure the location of the response to each question is identified (i.e., Volume, Table No., Paragraph No., Page No., etc.).

Clearly mark the areas you have revised in your proposal. Revisions may be identified with bold print, vertical line in the margin, by underlining or with some type of identifiable marking to allow evaluators to find the changes easily. All remaining format restrictions provided in the original RFP remain unchanged.

Responses to each responsibility determination, technical and price discussion question shall be submitted with your FPR. These responses will not be included in the page limitation. In order to be binding, your responses must be included in your responsibility determination, technical and price proposals respectively. Index each change in the front of your revised proposal and ensure the location of the response to each question is identified (i.e., Volume, Table No., Paragraph No., Page No., etc.). A complete resubmission of the revised responsibility determination, technical and price proposal, with changes annotated, is required. Offerors who elect not to make any changes to their last responsibility determination, technical and/or price proposal submission shall provide a response stating there are "no changes to the offer" and submit the written response no later than the date and time stated above. However, the offeror must address and include responses to all discussion questions in order to remain in the competition.

The Government will not accept any "conditioning" of your FPR. "Conditioning" means placing any restriction on your responsibility determination, technical and/or price proposals. You should have resolved all uncertainties during discussions.

The response to the questions and FPRs are subject to FAR 52.215-1. The Government intends to make award without obtaining further revisions. Therefore, your FPR shall contain the best terms from a price and technical standpoint.

All other terms and conditions remain unchanged.

B.1 PRICING OF CLINS

The contract pricing is structured into 28 Contract Line Item Numbers (CLINs). The base year is covered by CLINs 0001, 0002, 0003 and 0004. The first 12-month option period is covered by CLINs 0005, 0006, 0007, and 0008. The second 12-month option period is covered by CLINs 0009, 0010, 00011, 0012, and 0013. The third 12-month option period is covered by CLINs 0014, 0015, 0016, 0017, and 0018. The fourth 12-month option period is covered by CLINs 0019, 0020, 0021, 0022 and 0023. The 6-month option period under FAR 52.217-8 is covered by CLINs 0024, 0025, 0026, 0027 and 0028. The FFP price base year requirement and the overall guaranteed minimum for the contract is CLINs 0002 and 0003. CLINs 0001, 0002, 0003, 0005, 0006, 0007, 0009, 0010, 0011, 0012, 0014, 0015, 0016, 0017, 0019, 0020, 0021, 0022, 0024, 0025, 0026, 0027 and account for the FFP Work requirements in each option period. CLINs 0004, 0008, 0013, 0018, 0023, and 0028 contain IDIQ Work requirements that are pre-priced as part of your offer.

Section B CLINs are supported by Section J Exhibit Line Item Numbers (ELINs). Before Pricing Section B, complete the Section J ELINs Attachment excel spreadsheet. The spreadsheet includes multiple worksheets, which must be completed. Submit the completed spreadsheet with your proposal in hard copy and electronic format. The spreadsheet contains 12 tabs of ELINs, each corresponding to a Section B CLIN. They are identified for example, as: "FFP Work Base Period" (which is CLINs 0001 through 0003), "IDIQ Work Base Period" (which is CLIN 0004), etc. "FFP Work First Option Period" (which is CLINs 0005 through 0007), "IDIQ Work First Option Period" (which is CLIN 0008), "FFP Work Second Option Period" (which is CLINs 0009 through 0012), etc. ELINs with prefix "A" support the Base Year, ELINs with prefix "B" support the First Option Period, ELINs with prefix "C" support the Second Option Period, ELINs with prefix "D" support the Third Option Period, ELINs with Prefix "E" support the Fourth Option Period, and ELINs with the Prefix "F" support the 52.217-8 Option Period. Therefore the total of ELINs A001 through A006 will be the amount you should enter in Section B CLIN 0001. The total of ELINs A007 through A012 will be the amount you should enter in Section B CLIN 0002. The total of ELINs A013 through A017 will be the amount you should enter in Section B CLIN 0003. The total of ELINs A700 through A729 will be the amount you should enter in Section B CLIN 0004. Continue pricing accordingly and make sure that the total of each Tab of ELINs is equal to its corresponding CLIN value entered in Section B. The total of all Section J ELINs should equal the total of all Section B CLINs 0001 through 0028.

B.2 NTE AND MIN GUARANTEE

The maximum or not-to-exceed (NTE) value of an ordering period is the total of all the CLINs in that ordering period. The maximum for any ordering period shall not be exceeded except as may be provided for by formal modification to the contract. Circumstances may change after award such that the Government may need to issue orders which exceed the estimated quantity set forth for any particular CLIN during an ordering period, but will not exceed the maximum value for that ordering period. In this case, the Contractor may agree by signing the task order or starting performance.

Concurrently, with the award of the basic contract, the Government intends to issue a task order to obligate the contract minimum guarantee for:

CLIN 0002, Base Period FFP Work, Knoxville, TN

and

CLIN 0003, Base Period FFP Work, St. Louis, MO

Minimum guarantees do not apply to the option periods.
